

Martha Donnelly, PhD

Dr. Martha Donnelly is Director of the Division of Community Geriatrics for the Department of Family Practice and the Director of the Division of Geriatric Psychiatry, Department of Psychiatry, University of British Columbia. She team teaches in an interdisciplinary course on aging for UBC and with an interdisciplinary group of health care professionals and academics has developed an interdisciplinary curriculum for geriatrics case based small group learning. She also works as a geriatric psychiatrist with the Vancouver Hospital outreach team (GPOT). Her present research interests include: personhood and dementia and collaborative primary mental health care. As well, Dr. Donnelly was the President of the Canadian Academy of Geriatric Psychiatry from 2004 to 2008.